

Special Instructions for International Shipment of Natural Gas Samples

For shipping purposes, natural gas samples are considered as “dangerous goods.” Restrictions vary from country to country and from shipping company to shipping company. Please check with the express shipping companies and air freight companies in your area to see which will accept dangerous goods for shipment to the US. International shipment of natural gas is controlled by the “Dangerous Goods Regulations” of the “International Air Transport Association” (IATA). To assist you in shipping the samples we have enclosed the warning labels which IATA requires. Include with the shipment the following items; the Original Bill of Lading, the Commercial Invoice, and the Shipper’s Declaration for Dangerous Goods. To expedite the processing of your samples, also sign a copy of the “Toxic Substances Control Act Statement” attached and include it with the shipping papers. Please note that all documents must be faxed to (217) 398-3493 ATTN: Sample Receiving at Isotech PRIOR to shipping. Finally, to further expedite the receiving process, address all packages to:
